

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Winter embraces the Ptarmigan – 7 nights fully catered in Vail from only £849pp – save up to £646pp

Colorado has seen a record breaking start to the season, with 5108 acres of Vail's epic terrain open to enjoy. It has been the best opening season conditions locals can remember. There has been 28" of fresh snow in the past 7 days and there is more on its way.

Ski Independence is offering some of the best prices to hit Vail this season for any date of departure in January or February:

7 nights fully catered from £849 pp – SAVE up to £646pp
10 nights fully catered from £999 pp- SAVE up to £778pp
14 nights fully catered from £1099pp - SAVE up to £1030pp

The price is based on two sharing and includes flights and transfers. Subject to availability.

Whether it is lazing by the fire with a brandy or enjoying a beer or two in the hot tub, the chalet hosts are on hand to help guests relax after a hard day on the slopes. Guests staying at the Ptarmigan will receive daily breakfast and afternoon tea, plus a three course dinner and post meal Drambuie on six nights out of every seven night period. The price also includes champagne and canapés on Sundays before dinner and a choice of wines with meals.

Ptarmigan is situated at Booth Falls just to the east of the centre of Vail and has southerly views over the Aspen trees across the valley to the ski area. It is just five minutes drive to the centre of Vail or a 250m walk to the free regular resort shuttle, which takes about 10 minutes into the town.
